

RUBBER COMPOUNDING AND PROCESSING

MAYA JACOB JOHN^{1,2}

*1CSIR Materials Science and Manufacturing, Polymers and Composites Competence Area,
P.O. Box 1124, Port Elizabeth 6000, South Africa, E-mail: mjohn@csir.co.za*

2Department of Textile Science, Faculty of Science, Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University, P.O. Box 1600, Port Elizabeth 6000, South Africa

Abstract

This chapter presents an overview on the compounding and processing techniques of natural rubber compounds. The introductory portion deals with different types of rubbers and principles of rubber compounding. The primary and secondary fillers used in rubber systems and vulcanization agents are discussed. Finally, the different processing techniques used in rubber based green composites are elaborated.